

MORTE NEGLI OCCHI DEL GATTO (LA)

In a small Scottish village, horribly murdered bodies keep turning up. Suspicion falls upon the residents of a nearby castle that is haunted by a curse involving a killer cat.

Directed by ANTONIO MARGHERITI as Anthony M. Dawson.

If Don't Torture A Duckling is unique for breaking the giallo mold in its countryside setting, then Seven Deaths in the Cat's Eye is in a whole new class of its own. Set in an old castle where victims are killed one by one by a man in black gloves, it acts as a sort of hybrid between the death-driven modernity of the giallo and the period elegance of a Hammer production.
